

Big Ceremonies to be Held in Edmonton on October 1.

The laying of the Corner Stone of the Parliament Buildings will take place. Earl Grey to be Present.

On October 1st, Edmonton will be the scene of a celebration surpassing even the memorable festivities of the Inauguration on Sept. 1st, 1905. Guests from every part of the Dominion will be here to witness the ceremonies attendant upon the laying of the corner-stone of the Legislative Buildings by His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor General of Canada.

His Excellency will be attended by a brilliant suite; Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues have been invited to attend and senators and members of the Federal House as well as the Governor and Legislators of every province in the Dominion are among those invited. The Hon. Frank Oliver already in Edmonton and will remain until after the ceremony. Large excursion-parties are expected in to Edmonton from various parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan, as railway-excursion with reduced rates are being planned.

In addition to the vice-regal party and parliamentary of Ottawa, another guest from the Canadian Capital will be the Hon. David Laird, the first Governor of the Northwest Territories and the man who as Alexander Mackenzie's colleague first organized the department of the Interior as a separate portion of Canadian administration.

Elaborate arrangements are being planned to make the festivities of October 1st, successful. The Celebration will open with a large Reception in honor of the distinguished guests, which will be given by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Buley in the Thistle Rink on Thursday night Sept. 30. This reception will be held in the rink because of the very large number of out-of-town guests. Governor House will be unequal to accommodate the large assemblage.

On the afternoon of October 1st, there will be a brilliant procession, the Royal N. W. M. Police; the Alberta Mounted Rifles; the 101st Fusiliers, will form an escort through the decorated streets of the city. The Edmonton Cadets and thousand of school-children will take part in the procession which will conduct His Excellency and entourage to Parliament Hill where the ceremony of laying the corner-stone will take place. The handsome new buildings are being erected upon historic ground, upon the exact site of the Old Big House of residence, of the Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company for Edmonton district.

On the evening of October 1st, the thistle rink will again receive a brilliant assemblage within its walls as a public subscription dance in honor of the visitors will be given by the Women's Hospital Aid. The decorations of the rink will be most elaborate, surpassing even the beautiful typically western decorations so greatly admired in the same building where it was the scene of the Inaugural ball in 1905.

The day will be observed as a public holiday.

It is expected that railway excursions will be planned all over the Province for October the first, when all roads will lead to Edmonton, and Alberta's capital.

The occasion will be the laying of the corner-stone of the new Legislative Buildings which now rise on the historic site of the old Big House, for many decades the residence of the Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company in this district. His Excellency, the Governor-General, will lay the stone on the afternoon of October 1. Attended by a large suite he will arrive in Edmonton on Sept. 30th. There will also be present the Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of Interior and Hon. David Laird, who under the Mackenzie Administration first organized the Department of the Interior, later becoming first Governor of the Northwest Territories.

The Cook-Pearry Affair

The most amusing subject under discussion throughout the world during the last week has been the controversy between Dr. Cook, and Commander Peary over the discovery of the North Pole. It transpires that Cook says he reached the pole and that at that time he had with him two Eskimo. Peary reached the pole by another route and had only one Eskimo with him. Cook got back to civilization first, published his story and secured world-wide congratulations. Peary came along two days later with his story and found himself forestalled. Naturally he was mad. A man does not spend as many years and as much money as he did and then lose all to an unknown explorer without likewise losing his temper. Peary at once declared Cook was a fake and that he had never been near the pole. Cook admits that Peary discovered the pole as he claims to have done.

but has branded him as a thief and a liar for his statements and actions. Both these men are Americans and American scientific societies are holding aloft from presentations for fear it may go to the wrong party. It is just possible that before the matter can be definitely decided the two rivals may be sent off on a second heat to the pole. Neither one has corroborative evidence for his finding the magnetic point and this is demanded.

The chief thing they seem to have secured is notoriety, and they have also cheated Lieut. Shackleton out of the honor and remuneration he was resping in large quantities for his little jaunt, a short distance south of the equator in the direction of the South Pole. It is an even bet as to whether Peary or Cook will get the biggest figure for their magazine articles and lectures.

Members will be held at the Thistle Rink, between the Government House, which could not provide sufficient accommodation. The Rink will be most handsomely decorated for this occasion, even more elaborately ornamented than at the Inaugural Ball in 1905 when the ensigns, flags, shields and gleaming lights transformed the big bare hall into a palace of beauty.

A Good Exhibit

One feature of the exhibits in the agricultural hall was the fair display of King Bros. The appearance of the exhibit is deserving a great deal of credit on the part of Raymond's up-to-date Merchants.

Raymond Fall Fair Held Thurs. and Friday

Very Poor Attendance, but the Exhibits Could Not Have been Excelled. Hon. W. T. Finlay, Present.

As a record-breaker for attendance and gate receipts the Raymond fair on Friday was a failure, but as for the exhibits they could not have been improved upon. On Thursday, the weather was fine and warm, but on Friday there was a cold wind accompanied by rain, made the prospects for a crowd very slim. The fair was purely an agricultural fair. The exhibitors were numerous and their exhibits were well exhibited. It was clearly shown that the most attractive feature was the horses, Ed. Hodges of Magrath, had a full string of Clydesdales; Brimhall Bros. had the same bunch of shires that swept the boards at the Lethbridge fair, while Ray Knight had there the finest array of Suffolk Punches ever seen together in Western Canada.

Taken all round the exhibition was excellent and a credit to the community. It is the sincere hope that better success crown the efforts of the directorate to surpass it next year.

Among the notable visitors at the fair were Hon. W. T. Finlay, Minister of Agriculture; Geo. H. Greig, of Winnipeg; the Western representative of the Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, and H. A. Craig, of Edmonton, superintendent of fairs and farmers' institutes.

Centennial Exposition

If the people of Canada are satisfied to accept the opinions of such world-famous men as Lord Strathcona, Earl Grey, Lord Northcliffe, James J. Hill, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, Governor Johnson (Minnesota), C. M. Hays, Governor Duxen (Illinois) the editors of big London papers and of over a hundred others, the time has come when Canada will hold a great International Exposition in 1912.

In the past six weeks at Winnipeg, conferences have been held with these distinguished men, presenting to them in the fullest manner possible the aims and objects upon exhibition.

Free Literature Issued
A "Copy of the Case," as presented to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister; Why Canada should hold a great International Exposition in 1912; A compilation of fifty editorial extracts from the press of Canada, are three prices of free literature issued by the Exposition Committee at Winnipeg that should be read by every Canadian.

International Interest Growing August Isaac, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of France, was in Winnipeg on Friday last, enquiring into Exposition matters. Victor Larnelle, commissioner-general of the French section of the Alaska-Yukon Fair, writes that Mr. Huet and several members of the international jury of awards of France will wait upon Canada's Exposition Committee in November. The governments of Germany, Switzerland and Austria have also become interested, and have instructed at Winnipeg to report on the proposed World's Fair for Canada. United States Consul-General John E. Jones, who has just returned to his post after an extended tour, reports that an increased interest in the big fair for Canada is shown throughout the States, and that the official representations presented by him to the Department of State at Washington were most favorably received.

Management Confident
In summing up the situation, the Executive Committee at Winnipeg felt that with the unanimous endorsement on every hand, with expressions from distinguished men and resolutions from public bodies throughout the country so remarkable for their enthusiasm in favor of the project, that when the provincial authorities state to what extent they will participate in buildings and exhibits, the case will have been completed for presentation to the Federal Government at Ottawa at the November Session.

In urging the East to get good and ready to meet the enormous demand from the West that must follow a great crop. The Contract Record, Toronto, says in part:

"One hundred and fifty-seven millions of money! That is the very least that the food crop will mean to the people of Western Canada. It is the conservative estimate of a conservative institution. In the light of past experience we would be inclined to add ten per cent. to this estimate, but taking this as a safe basis for calculation, it is easily found that this amount will provide the West with $157 per capita, a distribution unlike any in the history of all agricultural countries.

"The 'Last Great West' is harvesting one of the best crops on record. General market conditions are such as to insure exceptionally good prices. There is no doubt, nothing open to question about this crop. It is assured. The period of danger has passed, and that which earlier in the season optimists dreamed of pessimists decried, shrewd men banked on and all longed for, is no longer a shadowy possibility born of a fertile imagination, but a great big reality."

It may not perhaps be out of place to say a few words of caution at this stage of the western people.
Many millions of money will come back from the grain crop marketed the farmers will have plenty of money and may be perhaps careless in using it. In the case of a man who gets paid by the week or month, his yearly income is spread over the different weeks or months. Not so with many farmers. They get their annual returns perhaps in one lump sum.
Many a man has been too free with a big wad of money, and wished afterwards he had not carried so much.

Feeding the Baby.
In modifying milk for infants water is usually the element, but some milk, even when diluted with water, will sometimes cause colic in the stomach. It is then often becomes necessary to use something else. In this case gruels may be used. In fact, during the summer months it is best preferred to water. Barley, wheat, rice or oat flour may be used to make gruel.
Mix from two to four teaspoonfuls of the flour in a little cold water and rub into a smooth paste, then pour slowly into a cup of boiling water. Boil for three minutes, stirring constantly to prevent scorching. The gruel should be perfectly smooth. If at all lumpy, strain through a coarse piece of cheesecloth or fine wire sieve, add a pinch of salt. It should be made fresh every day. If whole or 8-d. cereals are used, it will need to cook twice as long.

Gruel can also be made in a double-boiler by cooking longer. When the food is to be heated for the infant, do so by putting the bottle in a pan of hot water for a few moments. The plug of cotton around the neck of the bottle should be ready to be given to the baby. As soon as the gruel is ready, it should be thoroughly stirred and the hot liquid should be thoroughly rinsed and the hot liquid should be placed in a cup containing a little borax or soda carbonate washed in hot soap and water and boiled in water also thoroughly washed just before filling with the food—Marjorie Women of the Yellow States.

It is a mistake to think that Chinese women have small feet naturally; they have them because of a matter of fact, an accident. Having made up their minds that a small foot is a great beauty, the Chinese go to work with great thoroughness, and instead of resorting to the various means for making things seem other than they are, they bandage the feet of their girls from small feet they are women, bandage the feet and having the big one close to do duty as a miniature foot, so that a lady's shoe measures at most between four and five inches. We need not wonder our play on these forced cripples they cannot walk or stand or do any healthy exercise, for idleness is the Chinese woman's ideal of happiness, and she regards work or exercise of any kind as a disgrace. Therefore among the poorest it is not uncommon to find the beauty of the family with artificially small feet; she is allowed to do light work and fetches a higher price in consequence.

Chinese women cannot read; they know nothing of what is going on in the world, and as a consequence they have no general topics of conversation. When talking to the outside world they are constantly of money, the principal god of their country. "What's the price of this much is it worth?" and "How much money did she pay for this?" are the ever recurring questions.
Among the lower classes the women lead a life of unrelenting drudgery. They have no other filthy households or unpleasantly loaded on land. To attempt at simplicity as a principle of life in the space which one should have. The head of the house works in the fields or acts as a coolie, and he is to be seen his 10 or 15 cents a day the women have starvation added to blows and kicks—

SHE GOT SQUARE.
New York's Wife Gets Her Taste of His Own Medicine—Knowing the aversion of her husband to letter writing, the wife of a Chicagoan thus admonished him on his departure on a recent eastern trip:
"Now, John, as neither I nor the children can accompany you, you must be eyes and ears for us and drop us an occasional postal card, telling us anything of interest you may see and hear.
Don't forget, will you?"
The husband promised and took his departure. The next morning but one his wife received a postal card containing the following message:
"Dear Wife—I reached Pittsburgh all right.
You're all."

Though disappointed, she excused the brevity of the communication on the ground that her husband was doubtless pressed for time. Two days later, however, another card arrived bearing the startling announcement:
"Dear Wife—I am in New York. You're all right. I am indeed in New York. You're all right. The wife swallowed her disappointment and, being good at retaliation, added her own words:
"Dear Husband—The children and I are in Chicago. You're
We are still in Chicago.
In her next communication she gave a little more enthusiastic. She wrote:
"Dear Husband—Here we are in Chicago.
I repeat it, sir, we are in Chicago.
P. S.—We are indeed."
